HART SHAW

Chartered Accountants & Business Advisers

Financial and legal consideration can be particularly daunting. Fortunately, you do not need to be an expert in these fields to be a success – as long as you have the support of a team of specialists.

In addition to supporting your business from a financial perspective, we draw upon our experience to provide both strategic guidance and facilitate strategic thinking throughout our clients' organisation.

We work with a complete range of clients from start-ups to 4th generation businesses providing bespoke consultancy services focused on their specific needs.

Our services include:-

Strategic Planning

We work with individuals and management teams to facilitate focus and assist in formulating strategic direction. This may involve an informal meeting with one of our Partners or a structured series of work steps with a management team. This process often involves the facilitation of discussions to develop the best of our client's ideas.

Succession Planning

We work with business owners to formulate a structured exit from their business and the smooth and successful implementation of the successor. Succession may involve passing on a family business to the next generation or a disposal, either via an MBO or a corporate sale. Early consideration and implementation of a succession plan can streamline what is a challenging process and deliver significant plan in a disposal.

Profit Improvement

We work with existing clients to focus the efforts on profit improvement via a range of strategies. These include cost cutting and waste reduction which may include a full review of trading arrangements.

Problem Solving

We assist our clients in identifying solutions to a broad range of business issues. Running an owner managed business can sometimes be a lonely place, we can either act as a sounding board or provide more detailed research or analysis. Previous experience can be a major advantage in the decision making process.

Our partner led consultancy team provide straight forward "non-jargon" based advice, to deal with the broad range of consultancy projects as outlined above.

By combining your business knowledge with our expertise, we can help your organisation grow and prosper.

I would highly recommend Hart Shaw to any of our business partners. As well as being experts in the field, they are extremely flexible and helpful and have been trusted partners of ours for a number of years.
